Step 2:

Add your search terms.
In this case “cuneiform”
and “Assyria.”

JSTOR does not allow you to search by subject, so choose specific search terms when possible.

Step 3:

Choose “limiters” to refine your results.

Selecting “articles” will eliminate book reviews from your results list.

JSTOR offers articles in a variety of languages. You may choose to view only English language results.

You can also limit to search within a date range.

Tip!

Don't be too restrictive in your date range. JSTOR does not contain current journal issues, so be prepared to look for older articles

You can also limit to a particular journal, subject discipline, or series of journals.

Tip!

Again, don't be too restrictive. Some articles may be cross-disciplinary and not listed where you expect.
