One of the greatest things about the jazz band that I am in right now, every photo that I look at, everyone is smiling. That's how you know that you have a great band and an awesome atmosphere. Everyone is doing it for the love of music, and it doesn't feel like a chore to anyone (believe me I've been in some bands where things have really dragged because people felt like they had to be there) Happy to see what the rest of this winter season brings, and I hope I can stick around for the spring semester, because our band has great things planned for the spring!
